Major Leaguers Honor Local Student Volunteers

*Mark Kotsay, David Ortiz and Jason Varitek
Recognize Student Leaders in National Program to Encourage Youth Volunteerism*

Boston, MA, Wednesday, May 20, 2009 ... During an on-field ceremony prior to tonight's game, eight high school students serving as Captains of the Boston Action Team®, part of the national service-learning program in which Major League players and high school students are inspiring and training the next generation of volunteers, will receive certificates of achievement signed by Boston Action Team players, Mark Kotsay, David Ortiz and Jason Varitek. During the 2008-09 school-year, these Action Team Captains raised awareness about the importance of community involvement among other students in their high schools and organized volunteer activities.

Administered by the Major League Baseball Players Trust and Volunteers of America, the Action Team program encourages young people throughout the United States to volunteer in their communities. To date, Action Teams of high school students and Major Leaguers have inspired more than 17,000 high school students across the country to help over 75,000 people in need by volunteering in their communities. An Action Team service-learning curriculum created by the Players Trust in partnership with The Wall Street Journal Classroom Edition teaches valuable community service skills to 700,000 high school students in more than 5,000 classrooms across the country. The Association of Educational Publishers named this innovative service-learning program a finalist for a 2009 Distinguished Achievement Award.

Receiving signed certificates of achievement from the players tonight are Boston Action Team Captains Mike Gustin, Kouray Hajjar, Billy Hocking, Kyle Larrow, Pat Lee and Andrew Morgan of Boston College High School and Colleen Anderson and Amanda Zaniewski of Notre Dame Academy. Also, Kouray Hajjar receives a $1,000 college scholarship from the Major League Baseball Players Trust in recognition of his dedication to community service.

Action Teams are working together in Boston, Chicago, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Dallas/Ft. Worth, Denver, Detroit, Houston, Indianapolis, Maui, Minneapolis, Mobile, New York City, Oakland, Philadelphia, Portland (Maine), San Francisco, San Juan (P.R.), Santa Fe, Seattle, Tampa and Washington D.C.. Beginning in September 2009, virtually every high school in America will be able to join the Action Team by participating in a new Internet version of this unique service-learning program. Action Team applications and additional information can be received by sending an e-mail request to ActionTeam@mlbpa.org.

Through the Players Trust, Major Leaguers contribute their time, money and celebrity to call attention to important causes affecting the needy and to help encourage others to get involved in their own communities.
